MICHELE DEL CAMPO

Born in 1976 in Sannicandro Garganico, Italy, Michele Del Campo moved in 2001 to Scotland to study Illustration and Printmaking at Dundee University. He then moved to Madrid, graduating from the Complutense University with a Fine Art degree in 2007. Michele first started exhibiting his work in 1997 in group exhibitions in Milan, then in various solo exhibitions in Madrid and Barcelona from 2005 to 2007. Since moving to London, Michele has exhibited in many art galleries and fairs and has won several awards including the 'Winsor and Newton Oil Prize' at the Royal Society of Marine Artists annual exhibition Mall Gallery in 2012. Del Campo strives to find something new in every painting, while staying true to his principles of technique and consistency. His paintings reflect daily life whilst also trying to capture the mood and the obscure nature of truth in its surrounding environment. He currently lives and works in London.
